KING'S POLICE MEDAL.

NOTIFICATION.

New Delhi, the 1st February 1937.

No. F. 25/7/36-Police.—His Majesty The KING, EMPEROR OF INDIA, has been pleased to confer the King's Police Medal on the following officers and men of the Indian Police establishments :—

Name of Officer and rank.	Statement of services for which in particular the decoration has been conferred.
MADRAS.
1. *Anandan Nayar, late Constable	On 23rd November 1935, two hooligans of Palni Town were brought to Palni Town Police station by this Constable and another after their arrest for drunken and disorderly behaviour. In the absence of handcuffs the prisoners had their arms bound with a cloth as they tended to be violent. At the station the Sub-Inspector directed the Head Constable to untie the men and charge-sheet them under the Towns Nuisance Act. They were accordingly untied. While the Head Constable was making the necessary entries in station records, one of the arrested men pulled out a knife and suddenly attacked him with it inflicting injuries which proved fatal. Constable Anandan Nayar, the only man in the vicinity at the time, although unarmed, went to his Head Constable's rescue without hesitation and tackled the armed murderer. His courageous action unfortunately proved unavailing as the murderer stabbed him also, the knife penetrating the lungs, and then made good his escape. The Constable afterwards died of the wound. He had risked his life with great gallantry.
2. *M. R. Ry. Chelamalasetti Venkata Subbayya Nayudu, late Sub-Inspector of Police.	On 13th July 1935, Sub-Inspector C. V. Subbayya Nayudu, who was investigating a burglary case received information that one Neelan Vecraswamy a notorious leader of a gang of hooligans in Bapatla was implicated in the case and was in possession of some of the stolen property. The Sub-Inspector accompanied by a Head Constable and a Constable proceeded to the house of Vecraswamy with a view to search it. Vecraswamy retreated into his house on the approach of the Police and emerging therefrom armed with a spear rushed at the Sub-Inspector and inflicted a fatal wound which pierced through the Sub-Inspector's abdomen. He withdrew the spear and aimed a second stab which the Sub-Inspector avoided. The Sub-Inspector, before collapsing, had the strength, resolution and courage to draw his revolver and shoot his assailant down. Vecraswamy died on the spot. The Sub-Inspector collapsed after his effort and died in hospital that night. Though mortally wounded the Sub-Inspector acted with the greatest intrepidity and his courage deserves the highest recognition.
3. M. R. Ry. Rao Sahib Poolancheri Subramanya Ayyar Jamburamaswami Ayyar, Avl., Deputy Superintendent of Police.	This officer was enlisted as a Sub-Inspector of Police in 1905. On completion of his training, he was posted to the Tanjore District where his hard work and devotion to duty earned for him early promotion as Inspector. He continued to earn the approbation of his superior officers and in 1921, after ten years continuous service as Circle Inspector, was selected for promotion to Gazetted Rank. During the non-co-operation movement of 1921-1922 he performed valuable service in the difficult Tiruvannamalai Division of the North Arcot District and in 1924 was posted as Assistant to the Kallar Reclamation Officer in the Madura and Ramnad Districts,

MADRAS—contd.
	where he continued to do good work. In 1927 he served in the Sivaganga Sub-Division where he discharged his duty faithfully and well, earning considerable appreciation in connection with the notorious factions in the Chettinad and in the early days of the first Civil Disobedience movement. In May 1931 he was selected for the important post of Deputy Superintendent, Office of the Inspector-General of Police, a post which he held for three years with credit to himself and very considerable benefit to the superior officers and his own subordinates. In May 1934 he was posted as Assistant Commissioner, Crime Branch, in the Madras City Police where his long service in the executive and the ministerial experience in the Office of the Inspector General of Police enabled him to control the investigating staff and Criminal Record Section of the City Crime Branch, with skill and success. He took a prominent part in the investigation of several important and complicated cases.
	He has now completed over thirty years of service which has been marked by a devotion to duty which it would be difficult to overestimate. He has, throughout his long career, borne an irreproachable character.
4. M. R. Ry. Rao Bahadur Mayavaram Vandirajapuram Sabhapathi Mudaliyar Vaidyanatha Mudaliyar, Avl., M.B.E., Officiating Deputy Superintendent of Police.	This officer entered service as a Sub-Inspector in 1907 and was in charge of several important stations in Coimbatore District until he was promoted in August 1919 to the rank of Inspector in the same district in appreciation of his excellent services. As Inspector he distinguished himself and showed conspicuous ability in the successful conduct of important and difficult cases which needed intelligent, careful and delicate handling. His work when in Gobi circle against dangerous members of the notorious criminal tribes of Koravars and Valayars, who were an incessant source of trouble in the Coimbatore District, was particularly noteworthy. In recognition of his ability, zeal and efficiency, he was promoted as Deputy Superintendent of Police in which capacity he rendered valuable service in Negapatam, Salem, Dharapuram, Hosur and Madura sub-divisions. He was transferred in June 1929 to his present post of Deputy Superintendent of Police, Special Branch, C. I. D. His services in this post have been of an outstanding nature, his work in connection with the Madras Conspiracy and other cases having been particularly meritorious. His long service has been throughout distinguished by exceptional ability and merit.
5. Saiyid Rahmat-Ul-la Saiyid Usman Sahib Bahadur, Inspector of Police.	Inspector Usman was enlisted in the Madras Police as a Sub-Inspector in 1906. In the South Arcot District to which he was attached in the years 1909—1918 this officer distinguished himself by rigorous action against notorious local criminals, including a dangerous dacoit whose arrest he secured after a stern chase and hand to hand fight in the jungles of Selliampalayam. He was promoted to Inspector's rank in 1920 and after distinguished service in the districts of South Arcot and Ramnad during the course of which he played a leading part in the suppression of the non-co-operation campaign, he was selected for duty in the Crime Branch at the Madras City Police in 1930. In this capacity he continued to display his marked ability as an investigating officer and did valuable work in numerous important cases. He was selected for promotion to Gazetted rank and actually acted as Deputy Superintendent of Police on two occasions. For private reasons he had voluntarily to forego such promotion. Throughout his service he has discharged his duties conscientiously and efficiently.
6. M. R. Ry. Kurapati Venkataramanujam Nayudu Garu, Inspector of Police,	This officer joined the service as a Sub-Inspector in 1908, and while still a probationer successfully rounded up a dangerous criminal gang of Erukakas. In 1912 he was promoted as Inspector and rendered distinguished service in the Guntur, Kistna and Godavari districts. In Bezwada—a hot-bed of crime and political trouble,—from 1918 to 1923 his work was outstanding, particularly in connection with the non-co-operation movement. Throughout the critical period he displayed physical and moral courage of a high order and handled difficult and trying situations in a resourceful manner.

While in Bezwada he effectively raided and broke up a dangerous gang of Erukakas, and when in charge of the Bhadrachalam sub-division brought to book two dangerous gangs.

In June 1930, he was transferred to the C. I. D., where he took charge of the Gang Section, which was then in its infancy, and developed it into a highly organised and effective system of control of criminal gangs throughout the presidency. His zeal and energy in this department, coupled with his wide knowledge of criminal gangs, and his persistent encouragement to the District Police have contributed largely to the good results in dealing with criminal gangs.

His long service has been distinguished throughout by exceptional merit and ability.

BOMBAY.

7. *Krishna Vishram Sawant, late Constable.

A gang of Thakurs under the leadership of Ladya Madhwa of Shinganwadi, Taluka Rajur, District Ahmednagar had committed several dacoities in Thana District. On the night of 11th November 1935 the gang, consisting of eight desperadoes headed by Ladya, committed dacoities at two hamlets of Chonde village under Kinavli Police Station. Head Constable Trimhak Sakham Sawant and Constable Krishna Vishram Sawant of the Dolkhamb Outpost, on receipt of information next day about the offences, proceeded to the scene and made enquiries. In the evening at about 8 P.M. when these two policemen were eating their food, the dacoits suddenly came upon them and at once attacked the Head Constable with swords and sticks. Constable Krishna Vishram Sawant at once came to the rescue of the Head Constable, who was severely wounded and unconscious, and tried to protect him. All members of the gang then turned on the Constable who died on the spot after receiving 14 wounds. His gallant action saved the life of his Head Constable at the cost of his own.

8. Norman Percival Arthur Smith, I. P.

Mr. Smith joined the Indian Police in 1912. After varying experiences in Districts, he served in the Sind Criminal Investigation Department from April 1926 to April 1928 and established the reputation of being a very sound and capable officer. From 1929 to 1932 Mr. Smith held the post of Assistant to the Inspector General of Police. During the whole of the Civil Disobedience Movement he had to carry a very heavy burden in dealing with the many novel and serious administration problems which required solution at that time. Mr. Smith was later selected on two occasions to officiate in the Intelligence Bureau, Delhi and has recently been appointed Central Intelligence Officer, Bombay Presidency. Throughout his twenty-four years' service Mr. Smith has done consistently valuable and conspicuous work in executive and special appointments.

9. *Nathekhan Bhaikhan, late Constable.

On the morning of the 27th May 1936 at about 5 A.M. Constable Nathekhan Bhaikhan of the Ahmedabad Police was returning to his Lines after night duty. While crossing the Sabarmati river bed he noticed a group of seven men sitting beside a bundle which he suspected contained stolen property. Single-handed he went forward and challenged them. The gang immediately attacked him. The Constable was struck on the eye by one assailant but despite his wound he proceeded to tackle and strike an assailant with a lathi, which was his only weapon. He was, however, overwhelmed by numbers and was stabbed twice on the back, one blow penetrating a lung. His assailants then fled leaving the Constable to struggle home alone to his Lines. He was taken at once to hospital where he died from septicæmia on 7th June. The Constable's courage in attacking single-handed a gang of seven suspected thieves merits recognition.

BENGAL.
10. Surendra Nath Chatarji, I. P.	Mr. S. N. Chatarji joined the Imperial Police in 1925 and his service has been marked throughout by keenness and ability of a high order. Towards the end of 1933 he joined the Dinajpur district as officiating Superintendent of Police. In the course of the next two years Mr. Chatarji by his diligence, perseverance and enterprise was successful in breaking up the ramifications of the terrorist parties in that district. He inspired his subordinates with his own enthusiasm and his work in dealing with the terrorist conspiracies has been exceptionally meritorious . He has played a very important part in the general campaign against terrorism in the Province.
11. Abu Hamid Muhammad Shamsoddoha, I. P.	This officer joined the Indian Police in 1924 and has been officiating in the rank of Superintendent of Police since 1931. As an Assistant Superintendent of Police in charge of the Contai Sub-Division of Midnapore in 1930, he received the congratulations of Government for his conduct in very difficult circumstances when he had to open fire during a riot arising out of the Civil Disobedience Movement. He takes great interest in all branches of his work, and his administration of the District Intelligence Branch both of the Birbhum and Faridpur districts during the last four years has been most valuable. By energetic touring he gained the confidence of the people in both districts and won over hesitants to the side of Government.
12. Babu Jamini Mohan Banarji, Officiating Deputy Superintendent of Police.	This Officer's work is of an exceptionally high order. He has contributed in no small measure to the successful prosecution of various political conspiracy cases.

13. *G. W. Cole, I. P. (Deceased). On the evening of April 3, 1936, a person named Chiranji Lal of the village of Pipargaon in the district of Fatehgarh, as a result of longstanding family quarrel, deliberately shot dead his sister-in-law and a person named Ram Singh and then set fire to that portion of the house in which they lived. He then climbed to the roof of his own quarters and threatened to shoot any of the villagers who approached him. Information of this occurrence was brought to Mr. Cole, the Superintendent of Police, at his house in Fatehgarh at 11 P.M. that night. Taking his two orderlies with him Mr. Cole left at once by motor car and, calling at the Fatehgarh police station for B. Jainti Prasad, Station Officer, proceeded to Pipargaon village. On arriving there he collected the villagers and surrounded the house at about 1 A.M. As a large part of the house was still in flames, Mr. Cole first proceeded to search this portion in which he found two women and two children in a state of terror. Having removed them, as well as some cattle which were also in the building to a place of safety, he searched a small room on the roof of the masonry portion of the house. Finding this empty he next devoted his attention to extinguishing the fire and then, leaving the villagers to complete this work, he led a small party to make a thorough search for the murderer who was believed to be somewhere inside the building. Mr. Cole was armed with a revolver and Sub-Inspector Jainti Prasad with a .12 bore gun and they had between them two electric torches. Having searched and found each of the rooms of this portion of the house empty, the party arrived near a room the door of which was half-open. Mr. Cole went towards the room and flashed his electric torch on the doorway when, it appears he suddenly perceived the murderer sitting on a stool just inside the door with his gun ready to fire. The murderer fired his gun at the light of the torch a second before Mr. Cole fired his revolver. Mr. Cole fell and the murderer thereupon fired his second barrel at the Sub-Inspector, who, although badly wounded, was able to crawl into the courtyard from where he was carried outside by other members of the party. The rest of the police party and the villagers thereafter surrounded the house and sent for reinforcements which arrived at 4 A.M. The house was then again approached and ultimately the murderer was found lying dead in the room from which he had fired on Mr. Cole apparently having committed suicide.

Mr. Cole was killed almost instantaneously, while the Sub-Inspector died in hospital on the following morning.

In tackling a desperate murderer who had vowed to shoot anyone who attempted to arrest him and who was not taken by surprise, Mr. Cole displayed great courage and disregard for his personal safety, while his rescue at considerable risk to himself of the women and children from the burning house testifies to his humanity.

14. * Muntaz Ali Khan, Sub-Inspector of Police.

Radha Charan, a notorious absconder belonging to the town of Khair in the Aligarh district had been wanted for five years by the police of the Aligarh Muttra, and Bulandshahr districts for murder and dacoity. Responsible for at least five murders, he had established a reign of terror in the Aligarh district by his daring murder of persons who had given information against him and he had even threatened to murder any police officer whom he might have reason to believe to be making particular efforts to arrest him. Apart from the terror which he inspired, he had many sympathizers and it had become exceedingly difficult and dangerous to obtain accurate information about his movements.

Sub-Inspector Muntaz Ali Khan who was posted to the police station of Chandausi which adjoins that of Khair set himself with great patience and perseverance to obtain reliable information about Radha Charan's movements. On November 19, 1935, he received information that Radha Charan, together with some companions, carrying arms, would proceed in a motor car towards Agra. The Sub-Inspector at once went to Aligarh to inform Mr. Thompson, the Superintendent of Police. Taking a party of police officers with them, Mr. Thompson and Sub-Inspector Muntaz Ali Khan went to the railway level crossing near Hathras where they arranged to have the gates closed and concealed themselves on each side of the road. When the car arrived and was stopped at the crossing, Sub-Inspector Muntaz Ali Khan approached and identified it. On his giving the signal he and the other members of the party rushed towards the car in which Radha Charan was sitting with a loaded double-barrelled gun between his knees. Sub-Inspector Muntaz Ali Khan together with Superintendent of the Police and other police officers closed with him and after a severe struggle overpowered him.

In obtaining information of Radha Charan's movements Sub-Inspector Muntaz Ali Khan showed commendable zeal and resource and in the prominent part which he took in effecting this armed criminal, who was accompanied by others who might also be armed, he displayed personal courage and devotion to duty of a high order.

15. *Rai Bahadur Shiam Singh, I. P.

On the night of April 11/12, 1936, Constable Jagannath Singh, who had the day before quarrelled with the head moharrir of the police station in the Hamirpur district at which he was posted, took advantage of the fact that he was on sentry duty to obtain a Government musket together with some ammunition by burning down the door of the malkhana. He then entered the head constable's quarters, shot the officer who was asleep and escaped from the police station. The head constable died a few days later.

On hearing of this outrage Mr. Shiam Singh, the Superintendent of Police of the Hamirpur district immediately proceeded to the police station where he ascertained that the murderer had taken refuge in a village some six miles away. He thereupon went to the village where he found that Jagannath Singh was in the house of a local bad character and had threatened to shoot anyone who interfered with him. As it was found impossible to arrest the murderer by stratagem,

Mr. Shiam Singh decided upon a direct attack. Taking five police officers with him he advanced quietly until the party arrived outside the room in which Jagannath Singh was lying on a bed with the musket under his legs. Mr. Shiam Singh, closely followed by Constables Jhao Lal and Tufail Ahmad, rushed into the house and, despite the fact that Jagannath Singh was a wrestler of good physique, disarmed and arrested him.

In effecting the arrest of this desperate murderer Mr. Shiam Singh displayed commendable courage.

16. *Razi Uddin, Constable.

On August 22, 1935, Constable Razi Uddin was a member of one of two parties consisting of police officers and members of the public who had been collected by the officer in charge of the Baheri police station to effect the arrest of three suspicious strangers who had been seen in the Baheri Bazar mosque. By the time the party had arrived at the mosque, however, the suspects had left but were subsequently located in a confectioner's shop by Constable Razi Uddin and his party. The three men made every effort to evade arrest. One of them named Laddan Khan made good his escape by firing his revolver at one of the private persons who was attempting to hold him. The second escaped after inflicting serious knife wounds on the villager who had seized him. The third, Hafiz Bashir, who had been tackled by Constable Razi Uddin, drew his revolver and fired at the constable. Constable Razi Uddin, however, maintained his hold and prevented him from using his weapon with any effect. The struggle continued until the Sub-Inspector and his party arrived and disarmed Hafiz Bashir. Hafiz Bashir was subsequently convicted and sentenced to rigorous imprisonment for ten years for attempted murder, while Constable Razi Uddin's gallant conduct was particularly commended by the Sessions Judge.

Constable Razi Uddin displayed courage and determination of very high order.

17. Percy Lancelot Orde, I. P.,
C.I.E.

During the course of his service in the Punjab and Delhi, dating from the year 1907, Mr. Orde has been called upon to meet situations of difficulty and danger on an unusual number of occasions. His valuable services at Delhi in connection with the disturbances of 1919 were acknowledged by His Majesty's Secretary of State and the Government of India. In 1921 he was placed on special duty at Nankana Sahib, at that time the focal point of Sikh fanaticism. In his work there, in conditions of peculiar delicacy, he showed tact and common-sense in a remarkable degree. In November of the same year he was appointed as Superintendent of Police in the important district of Ferozepore, and in 1923 received the congratulations of the Inspector-General for his share in the capture of a gang of armed dacoits. At the end of 1923 his services were again put at the disposal of the Delhi Administration, where he remained till May 1928. His work in the capital city, particularly during the communal tension of 1926-27, was recognised by his appointment as a Companion in the Most Eminent Order of the Indian Empire (Birthday Honours, 1927). In February 1929 he returned to the Punjab to serve as Deputy Inspector-General of the Central Range. In April of the same year he came to special notice for the efficiency with which he handled a dangerous communal situation in Lahore. His services in connection with the Lahore session of the Indian National Congress at Christmas 1929 again earned the commendation of the Punjab Government. In September 1930 Mr. Orde was put in charge of the Punjab Criminal Investigation Department and in the summer of 1935 he was appointed to officiate as Inspector-General. He was thus in charge of the whole police force of the province at the time of the bitter dispute between Sikhs and Muslims in regard to the Shahid-ganj Gurdwara. Mr. Orde decided to take personal charge

P.	of the police operations in Lahore, and was on duty almost continuously throughout the 19th July and the two succeeding days, when the police were repeatedly in contact with violent crowds. His coolness and cheerfulness throughout these operations, carried out at the very height of the hot season, were an inspiration to the force under his command, while his grasp of the situation and sound judgment were an asset of the greatest value to the local Government. The calm courage shown by Mr. Orde on this occasion was of a piece with the whole of his official career, and merits the award of the King's Police Medal. Throughout his career Mr. Orde's work has been highly efficient. Mr. Scott joined the Indian Police in January 1920. In June 1935 he was posted to Ferozepore, a district which for some years past has been notorious for dacoity, and at once showed the greatest energy and skill in hunting down dacoits and absconders. On the 15th February 1936 he received information that two outlaws, each wanted for a number of murders and other serious offences, had taken refuge in a house in a village known as Buttar Bakoha. He at once summoned a body of police from headquarters and proceeded to surround the house—a large building with a courtyard and a number of outhouses and stables. At this stage one of the outlaws shot a young constable who was approaching the main door of the house, inflicting fatal injuries. Soon after this two bombs were thrown at the police, one of which exploded in a manure heap immediately behind Mr. Scott. Fortunately he was untouched, except by a few small pieces of wire and nails. Owing to the approach of darkness Mr. Scott then decided to use lachrymatory gas to force the outlaws to quit their shelter. He personally fired a gas gun from a roof which was exposed to the outlaws' fire, and supervised the digging of holes in the roof through which gas bombs were thrown into the room. After some time a loud explosion was heard, and it was subsequently found that one of the outlaws had dropped one of his bombs and killed himself. The further employment of tear gas eventually drove the second man out, shooting wildly. The police returned the fire, killing the dacoit. The conspicuous courage and leadership displayed by Mr. Scott in this very successful operation entitle him to special recognition.
19. George Durrant, I. P.	Mr. Durrant was appointed to the Indian Police in October 1922 after having served for several years in the Army during the Great War. In March 1934 he was posted to the Muzaffargarh District as Superintendent of Police. This district lying between the Indus and Chenab rivers, has always provided a peculiarly suitable field for the activities of the cattle thief, so much so that both police and public had almost come to regard the prevalence of this form of crime as an incurable evil. Mr. Durrant refused to accept this state of affairs, and immediately devoted himself to organising a campaign against cattle thieves and the receivers of stolen cattle. Steps were taken to ensure that as many cases of cattle theft as possible were reported and investigated by the police. At the same time a complete reorganisation was carried out of the system of patrols, both on the rivers and on land. The results were soon seen, 219 animals valued at Rs. 12,934 being recovered in 1934 as compared with 33 in the previous year. The measures taken to deal with organised bands of Lohri cattle thieves from Sind were so successful that so far as is known there was not a single theft in the district in 1935 by criminals of this type. In that year 366 cases were registered on the recovery of stolen animals, and 429 animals valued at Rs. 20,005 were recovered. Convictions of the cattle thieves rose from 61 in 1933 to 120 in 1935, while no less than 211 receivers were convicted in the latter year as compared with 40 in 1933. These figures indicate a remarkable measure of success in dealing with a type of crime which presents peculiar difficulties in a locality which specially favours it. Mr. Durrant's

21. Archibald Clifford Smith, I. P.	Mr. Smith served in the Home Civil Service (Intermediate) and was employed in the Ministry of Pensions, London, from the 7th December 1914 to the 6th January 1921 when his services were transferred to the Indian Police. He also served in the Army from the 25th October 1915 to the 15th May 1919. He was appointed an Assistant Superintendent of Police in Burma on the 7th February 1921. He was confirmed as a District Superintendent of Police on the 29th August 1925, and held the post of Principal of the Burma Provincial Police Training School, Mandalay, from the 30th May 1927, to the 7th May 1930. In February 1931 he was posted to the charge of the Police of the Thayetmyo District. Not more than a couple of months after he had assumed charge the rebellion which had started in the Tharrawaddy District spread to the Thayetmyo District. On the 11th April Mr. Smith with 20 Military Police and some Civil Police under him encountered about 100 rebels armed with dás and two guns. The rebels retreated into the jungle. Several of them were however wounded and one was left behind. Fifty Military Police reinforcements arrived on the 12th April and in the afternoon of the following day Mr. Smith engaged about 200 rebels. He led the attack and was severely wounded, being the only casualty on the Police side. Six rebels were killed and several were wounded. The wound Mr. Smith received was a very grievous one, the right thigh having been fractured. He was several months under treatment and has a permanent shortening of the right leg. On his return from leave in July 1932 Mr. Smith was again posted as Principal of the Provincial Police Training School, Mandalay, and continued to hold the appointment till January 1934 when he was transferred to the charge of the Police of the Amherst District. Mr. Smith has been very well reported on in every charge he has held. As Principal of the Police Training School, he did excellent work and maintained a very high standard of efficiency and discipline. While in charge of the Amherst District Police he kept the force up to the mark and controlled the investigation of crime and ran the district in a thoroughly satisfactory manner. Although the wound received by him has caused the shortening of his leg by 1½ inches with a limited flexion at the knee joint, it has not affected his work and he carries out his duties with the utmost enthusiasm.
22. Naib-Commandant Sardar Bahadur Partab Singh, I.D.S.M., Burma Military Police.	Naib-Commandant Partab Singh is an exceptionally fine officer who has had a most distinguished career in the Burma Military Police. He joined the Force as a sepoy in 1903 and rose by dint of hard and good work, loyalty and integrity, to the highest post attainable in the Military Police in 1932, that of Naib Commandant. His war record is outstanding. He served with the Burma Mounted Rifles in Persia and Waziristan from the 13th August 1916 to the 18th November 1920 and was granted a Jangi Inam of Rs. 10 per mensem for distinguished service in the Field. He was mentioned for good work in the Field in the despatch of Brigadier-General Sir P. M. Sykes, K.C.I.E., C.M.G., Commanding Troops, Persia. He was awarded the I. D. S. M. for gallantry in the Field in January 1918 and a Bar to the medal in July 1918. He was appointed Subedar-Major in 1929 and served with the Bhamo Battalion, Burma Military Police, until transferred to the Reserve Battalion in 1932 on promotion to the rank of Naib-Commandant. He is now Assistant Remount Officer, an onerous and responsible appointment which he is filling with great success. He is a typical Sikh gentleman, highly respected by all ranks and classes. He is straight forward and dependable and his loyalty is beyond question. The title of Sardar Bahadur was conferred on him on the 1st January 1934.

23. U Than (2), K.S.M., T.D.M.,
Deputy Superintendent of Police and Sub-divisional Police Officer.

U Than joined the Police Force in October 1909 as a Constable and by his ability and merit has raised himself to the rank which he now occupies. Within three years he was promoted to Sub-Inspector of Police, a phenomenally rapid rise. He thoroughly justified the confidence placed in him and was made permanent. In 1915 he was expressly selected for duty as Instructor at Mandalay on account of his knowledge of registers and police routine. In 1917 he was recommended for an Inspectorship for an act of bravery in arresting an armed man while he himself was unarmed. In 1918 he was promoted to the rank of Inspector and in 1926 by continued good work to that of Deputy Superintendent of Police, which he has held ever since. During his career U Than has been the recipient of almost every reward which an officer can claim. Apart from the ordinary commendatory entries and 16 Good Service Certificates, he was awarded a Good Service Certificate in 1919 by the Inspector-General of Police, Burma; a Certificate of Honour and a Silver Mounted Da (Sword) in 1921 by the Local Government; the title of Thuye-gaung-ngwe-Da Ya Min in January 1927; and the title of Kyet-thaye-zaung-shwe-Salwe-Ya-Min in June 1932. His work has been of a most excellent character throughout and he has proved himself a most valuable servant to the State.

24. Alakh Kumar Sinha, I. P.,
M.A., O.B.E.

Mr. Alakh Kumar Sinha entered the service as a Probationary Deputy Superintendent in 1908 and on account of his meritorious record was promoted to the Indian (Imperial) Police in 1920, to the Selection Grade of Superintendents in 1935 and to his present rank in April this year. He has held charge of some of the heaviest districts in the province, namely, Gaya, Patna, Purnea, Monghyr and Saran. Also for a number of years, the East Indian Railway.

His services were very valuable in Patna City during the Bakr-Id and the Muharram disturbances of 1917, for which he received the special commendation of Government and also when he was in charge of the prosecution section of the Criminal Investigation Department when the non-co-operation movement was at its height. His promptitude in 1927 averted what might have been a serious strike among the apprentices at the Jamalpur Workshops, about which the Agent of the East Indian Railway wrote in appreciative terms to the local Government. His Excellency the Governor in Council commended him for his excellent work in connection with the derailement cases on the East Indian Railway in Patna in 1932.

He is an officer with opinions of his own and has the moral courage to express and act up to them. His social position has always commanded respect and esteem from all classes of the public. As a mark of recognition of his valuable services to Government, the Order of the British Empire was conferred upon him in 1926.

His record of over 28 years in the Police is an exceptionally good one, marked by ability, loyalty and devotion to duty. He has been mentioned in the Annual Administration Reports of 20 years. Since the bestowal of the Honour in 1926, he has maintained the high opinions expressed on his work and character.

25. Sardar Bahadur Tiku Singh Thapa, 2nd in Command, Gurkha Military Police.	After serving in the Indian Army for six years in the 9th Gurkha Rifles, attaining the rank of Naik, he was appointed a Sub-Inspector of Police in 1914. He was first among the successful cadets at the Police Training College, winning two first prizes and one second. His services for four years in the Criminal Investigation Department, where he introduced the card index system, was good. He was appointed Subedar of the 2nd Company, Gurkha Military Police, and was conspicuous for the efficient organization, training and control of the new unit. In 1925 he was appointed 2nd in Command of the double Company and has raised the discipline to a very high standard and the smartness of the officers and men, their efficiency and most important of all, the excellence of their behaviour have evoked considerable praise. In recognition of his excellent and loyal services, the title of Sardar Bahadur was conferred upon him. Since then he has maintained the high traditions which he has set up in the Gurkha Military Police, and has, when commanding them during long and arduous deputations, rendered valuable and conspicuous services in connection with labour trouble at Jamshedpur, the civil disobedience movement, relief operations after the earthquake and communal trouble at Lahore.
Throughout his service of over 22 years he has shown exceptional ability, initiative, loyalty and devotion to duty and has been mentioned in several Administration Reports.

NORTH-WEST FRONTIER PROVINCE.

26. * Mir Zaman, Yusufzai, deceased Subedar, Frontier Constabulary.
- On the 8th April, 1936, Subedar Mir Zaman was returning from a patrol on the Jani Khel border to Jani Khel Frontier Constabulary Post, when he noticed an armed man in the neighbourhood of Nananur village, about a mile from the border of the Tribal territory. The Subedar quickened his pace in order to find out who the man was and whether his rifle was licensed. The man immediately started to run in the direction of the border, and in view of this suspicious conduct the Subedar divided his party in two in order to prevent his escape. The Subedar himself with three rifles overtook the man, but when the latter saw that escape was impossible, he fired at a range of about 7 yards and the Subedar was struck in the abdomen and fell. The man was closing in on the Subedar when the latter raised himself from the ground and fired four rounds from his revolver and killed him. On hearing the noise of the shots a number of people emerged armed from the village of Kui Ali Khel nearby across the border. The Subedar realised that the people were hostile and outnumbered his party considerably. So he stood up and having seized the dead man's rifle began to conduct a retreat. In a short time, however, the Subedar collapsed, and as he was clearly dying the party halted and took up defensive positions, as the result of which a fight with the armed villagers was averted. The Subedar's action in thus pursuing and killing his assailant when he himself was mortally wounded, followed by his continuing to lead his men up to the moment of his collapse, showed gallantry and devotion to duty of a very high order.
- Subedar Mir Zaman had nearly 25 years' good record of military and Frontier Constabulary service to his credit and was on the verge of retirement. During the last 3 years he had been a prominent figure in the campaign launched in Bannu to reduce illicit armament and had been instrumental in recovering 6 fire arms with 53 live rounds and arrested 25 outlaws and other criminals partly in conjunction with Police and partly with Frontier Constabulary parties under his command.

(POLICE.)

New Delhi, the 1st February 1937.

No. F. 114/25/36-Police.—His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General of India has been pleased to confer the Indian Police Medal on the following officers :—

Name of officer and rank.	Statement of services for which the decoration has been conferred.
MADRAS.
1. Sir Charles Banks Cunningham, Kt., C.S.I., Indian Police.	Sir Charles Cunningham has a long record of distinguished service. He joined the Indian Police in December 1904, as probationary Assistant Superintendent of Police and held various charges as Assistant Superintendent of Police, Deputy Commissioner of Police, Madras City, District Superintendent of Police, Commissioner of Police, Travancore and Commissioner of Police, Madras, till 1930. In May 1930, he was appointed to officiate as Inspector General of Police and was confirmed in that appointment in October of the same year. In 1929, he was awarded the King's Police Medal for general administrative ability and for his special services in connection with a difficult strike situation in Coimbatore in 1927, and in 1931 he was awarded the "C. S. I." He was knighted in 1933 and was awarded the Silver Jubilee Medal in 1935. His service has throughout his long service been and continues to be distinguished by his great ability and devotion to duty.
2. Donald Crossley, Indian Police.	Mr. Crossley joined service as Probationary Assistant Superintendent of Police in December 1922, and held various charges as Assistant Superintendent of Police and officiating District Superintendent of Police till 1930. Since 1930, he has continuously held charge of a Police District and was confirmed as District Superintendent of Police in 1934. In all the posts he has held he has shown himself to be a good and reliable officer. Since 1933, he has been District Superintendent of Police of the heavy criminal district of East Godavari, a district infested by criminal gangs and other wandering criminals. In this difficult charge, Mr. Crossley's untiring energy and thoroughness have achieved very notable results alike in the detection and in the prevention of crime. In particular two features of his work have shown such special initiative and ability as to deserve special recognition. He has succeeded in inducing the wandering criminal gangs of Telaga Pandalas which have ravaged the northern districts of the presidency from time out of mind to settle voluntarily on lands which his enthusiasm discovered for them, and as a community to give up their criminal lives. Secondly in a greater measure than in most other districts he has succeeded in enlisting the co-operation with the Police of the village populations of his district, which has not only led to good results in the control of criminals and crime, but has improved in a marked degree the relationship between his district Force and the general public.
3. Rao Sahib Kolandavelu Viswanatha Pillai, Deputy Superintendent of Police.	This officer entered the Police service as a Sub-Inspector in 1905, and by dint of hard and steady work rose to the rank of Deputy Superintendent of Police. For his distinguished service, he was awarded the title of "Rao Sahib" in 1931.

He thereafter did fine work during the Civil Disobedience Movement in the Tuticorin Sub-division in respect of which the Inspector General of Police referred to him in appreciative terms as a "tower of strength." He brought to book the offender concerned in an important and complicated Bank fraud case in Tuticorin and also did outstanding work in a case of extensive note forgery in the Rajahmundry Sub-Division. Thoroughly dependable and an indefatigable worker as Deputy Superintendent of Police, Kallar Reclamation, since 1933, his work has contributed greatly to the progress achieved in Kallar reform.

4. Palle Purushotham, Offg. Inspector of Police.

This officer entered service as Sub-Inspector on 23rd October 1918. After officiating as Circle Inspector in 1934 and 1935 he went out as Circle Inspector of Police to Bellary, and thence came to Chittoor district in December 1935. Whilst he maintained a consistently high standard of work, the one remarkable and continuing trait in his character as a man and as Police officer has been his thorough straightforwardness. He took charge of Kalahasti circle at the end of last year when the crime and criminals of the Circle were out of control. Whole villages had taken to the systematic organisation of crime. Two batches of criminals under influential leadership were indulging in crime and the local Police Force had lost credit. This officiating Inspector tackled the difficult situation with which he was faced vigorously and systematically and by his own personal unremitting efforts and the stimulation and guidance of his subordinates broke up all the considerable criminal organisations at work and achieved outstanding success.

5. Rao Bahadur Nandanur Harihara Ayyar Jagadisa Ayyar, M.B.E., Offg. District Superintendent of Police.

Mr. Jagadisa Ayyar has a record of long, faithful and distinguished service and is an officer of outstanding merit. He entered the Police in 1902 and is now, on the verge of retirement, officiating as District Superintendent of Police in an important district. His service throughout his career has been distinguished by tact, hard work, intelligence, and ability. As Assistant Commissioner of Police, Madras City, during the years 1918-28 during which time he more than once officiated as Deputy Commissioner of Police, his work was deserving of high praise and in 1926 he was awarded the title of Rao Bahadur. On several occasions during his service he has been specially chosen for work of a delicate nature which he has performed with marked success. He rendered particularly good service during the Civil Disobedience Movement and in 1931 at Madura displayed judgment and decision in handling a dangerous situation in which he had to open fire on a mob: for this he was awarded the "M. B. E." In 1933 and 1934 he officiated as District Superintendent of Police in a heavy district and carried out his duties in a very competent manner.

6. Karur Srinivasa Ayyangar Rajagopala Ayyangar, Inspector of Police.

This officer entered the department on 16th October 1906, as Sub-Inspector of Police. He was promoted to be Inspector of Police on 1st June 1922. His work through his long service has been characterised by energy and perseverance, tact and ability, and he has always shown that he could be thoroughly depended upon. Since he took charge of Sattur circle of Ramnad district in 1934, he has broken up many criminal gangs and brought many active and notorious criminals to justice. Bomb outrages had been a feature of the Circle crime and had defeated his predecessors. He traced the sources of supply of explosives, discovered the bomb makers at work and put a stop to their nefarious activities. In 1934 and 1935 by his personal work he located and dealt with several active gangs of burglars and in 1935 he traced and arrested one Vedakathi Muthia Thevan, a desperate and dangerous absconder from justice who had for long defied arrest. His circle was faction ridden and by his patient work directed against the leaders of factions he gave it comparative peace.

7. G. Varadhayyar Narasayyar, Head Constable. Head constable Narasayyar has a record of 35 years' good service to his credit. He was enlisted as a Police Constable on 1st July 1901, and by dint of good work rose to the position of Head Constable in 1908. In the year 1921, he was chosen for Special Branch work in view of his intimate knowledge of men and conditions in Coimbatore district, and speedily distinguished himself. He rendered valuable service during the Civil Disobedience Movement as also in the Madras Conspiracy cases of 1933 in which he took part in arresting one of the members of the gang armed with a loaded revolver at Coimbatore. In view of his long and meritorious service he was granted Their Majestys' Silver Jubilee Medal in 1935. His outstanding good work and exemplary conduct through his long service deserves recognition.
8. Rao Sahib Nanguneri Venkata Acharya Potadri Ayyangar, Inspector of Police. This officer enlisted as a Sub-Inspector of Police in 1909, in the Tanjore district. He did excellent work in important and difficult stations of the district and in Madras City, in recognition of which he was promoted to the rank of Inspector of Police in 1925. As Inspector he was specially selected to work in important circles of a number of districts. These charges were a real test of efficiency and character and throughout this period his work was of a high order.
- He showed outstanding ability in dealing with the Civil Disobedience Movement of 1930 in Karaikudi circle, Ramnad district, where, with influential supporters, it would have assumed serious proportions but for his prompt and firm handling of the situation in its initial stages. Again in Tinnevely circle in 1931 this officer effectively put a stop to the intensive picketting which was being conducted on an organised scale, and promptly brought to book the miscreants who threw bombs on Police quarters by way of reprisal.
- He did conspicuous work in the reclamation of the Kallars in the Madura district. He joined the Special Branch of the Criminal Investigation Department, Madras, in March 1933. He distinguished himself in the investigation of the raid on the Travancore National Bank at Ootacamund in 1933, a crime by revolutionaries from Northern India, which was intended to be the prelude to public outrages at Ootacamund and Madras. For this case, he was awarded the title of "Rao Sahib". Since then he has done work of exceptional value in the Special Branch. He is a thoroughly straightforward officer and his consistently fine work during his long and distinguished service deserves recognition.
9. Sholingar Srinivasulu Nayudu, Sub-Inspector. Sub-Inspector Srinivasulu Nayudu enlisted as a Constable in the Chingleput District in 1907. His industry and intelligence marked him out for preferment and he was promoted to Head Constable after 4 years' service. He was for some years in charge of Guindy Government House Out-Post where he earned commendation from successive Military Secretaries. He earned promotion to the rank of Sub-Inspector in 1918, and soon justified his selection. His work during the Royal visits of H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught in 1921, and of H. R. H. the Prince of Wales in 1922, was especially commended. He showed marked detective ability and devotion to duty and displayed considerable personal courage in 1930, in seizing an armed man who resisted arrest. He was selected for appointment in the Crime Branch of the Madras City Police where he has continued to render meritorious service. He has been engaged in many investigations of a difficult and complicated nature and has constantly displayed a loyalty and devotion to duty worthy of recognition.

10. Chinnappa Pillai Arthanari Pillai, Head Constable. First Grade Head Constable, Chinnappa Pillai Arthanari Pillai was enlisted on 5th April 1907, was made a probationary III grade Head Constable on 21st March 1912 and was promoted to the I grade on 1st January 1931. He did particularly good work in connection with the recapture of a notorious gang of dacoits who had escaped from the Sub-Jail, Tirupathur in 1919. He took part in the dispersal of a dangerous mob at Gudiyatham on 7th July 1930. The Sub-Inspector in charge of the party received the King's Police Medal. During his prolonged service he has shown very conspicuous devotion to duty and ability.
11. Chennakrishna Nayudu Ramasami Nayudu, Head Constable. He joined Police department in Salem districts as a Constable on 10th February 1905, rose to the rank of Head Constable on 1st August 1916, and acted as Sub-Inspector on three occasions. He has earned 20 Good Service Entries and 86 rewards for special services. His loyal service of over 31 years is an unbroken record of steady good work. He is now 58 years old and is nearing retirement. His prolonged service has been characterised by reliability and very special detective ability and merit.
12. Muhammad Abdul Wahab Khan, Inspector of Police. This officer joined the Force in 1908 as a Sub-Inspector in which capacity he had a reputation for honest and efficient work.
- During the War he did excellent work as Assistant Recruiting Officer, Chingleput, for which he earned a badge and sanad from the Local Government. During this period he was of great assistance in dealing with trouble with the Sepoys at St. Thomas Mount in 1916.
- During the Khilafat and non-co-operation movements in 1921 and 1922 he rendered particularly valuable service in the keeping in touch with the movements and the leading agitators.
- He rendered valuable service in connection with the Royal visit in 1921, when he was placed on special duty, and also in connection with the rioting in the Buckingham and Carnatic Mills in 1928.
- His work during the Fituri operations in the Narasapuram Agency was also noteworthy.
- He was appointed as Inspector in 1925 and has done consistently good work in that capacity. In Egmore Railway Police Circle he has shown much interest and persistence and has achieved useful results in dealing with crime and criminals. His long and distinguished service deserves recognition.

13. Khanderao Yeshwantrao Pradhan, Sub-Inspector of Police. Recruited as a Constable in 1901 this officer earned promotion to the rank of Sub-Inspector in 1921 by dint of devotion to duty and reliability. In recent years his work has come conspicuously to notice. During the Civil Disobedience Movement he rendered valuable service in East Khandesh District and was on one occasion nearly done to death by a mob while escorting a political prisoner. He also did excellent work during the Railway strike in 1931 for which he was strongly commended. Subsequently in other districts his work has been characterised by the same keenness and devotion to duty. His unblemished record covering a period of 35 years sets an example worthy of emulation.
14. Mir Ghiyasuddin Isamuddin, Sub-Inspector of Police. This officer joined the Police as a Constable in 1902 and was promoted to the rank of Sub-Inspector in 1916 since when he has built up a reputation as a detective of great ability. He has gained more than a hundred good service tickets or rewards for good work. In 1932, he was specially commended for his investigation of a very serious murder case and in 1935, he rendered courageous and valuable service in

When the riots broke out in Poona City on 24th April 1936, he immediately went to the scene of disturbance and by his bold action was able to prevent the contending parties from coming to close quarters. In doing so, he received severe injuries to his head which rendered him unconscious and prevented him for a considerable time from carrying out his normal duties. This officer enlisted as a Sub-Inspector in 1906 and has been in the Criminal Investigation Department since 1926. He has recently been transferred to officiate as a District Superintendent of Police. In the Criminal Investigation Department he was mainly concerned with the administration of the Criminal Tribes Act, in connection with which he was generally regarded as an expert. Work under this Act has been developed greatly and now little needs to be done. For all this development, in co-operation with the settlements work carried out by the Backward Class Officer, Rao Saheb Kelkar has given of his best. He has a record of 30 years' service, distinguished by loyalty and great devotion to duty.
16. Khan Bahadur Darashah Dhanjishah Kothawala, M.B.E., (Offg. Superintendent of Police) Assistant to the Deputy Inspector General of Police.	Entering the Police service in 1909 as a Sub-Inspector, this officer has been doing very good work in different capacities. He has been associated mainly with the Intelligence Branch of the Criminal Investigation Department where his services have been invaluable. During times of stress he worked indefatigably to the detriment of his health. He is widely respected by all classes.
17. Raghunath Yeshwant Pradhan, Officiating Deputy Superintendent of Police.	This officer joined the Police Force in 1910 as a Sub-Inspector and has acquired the reputation of being a keen and reliable officer. He was specially selected for duty in the Criminal Investigation Department where he performed valuable services both in connection with crime and political matters. Later he was appointed to deal with the Chirner riot in Kolaba District and acquitted himself successfully. Throughout his service of 26 years he has displayed great loyalty and devotion to duty.
18. Francis Henry Fox, Second Officer, Bombay Fire Brigade.	This officer joined the Bombay Fire Brigade, as Station Officer, over 19 years ago, and by his ability and merit, rose to be Second Officer in 1931. He has acted twice as Chief Officer with success. In 1932, when he was acting Chief Officer he was personally congratulated by His Excellency the Governor on the valuable services performed by the Fire Brigade during the communal disturbances of that year. His services were of conspicuous merit during those anxious times and he has always shown exceptional zeal for work.
19. Sidney Symonds, Sergeant.	This officer joined the police 17 years ago and has a clean record. On the 24th April 1936 at about 2 p.m., when rioting between Hindus and Muslims had broken out in different parts of Poona city, information was received that an attack was being made on a Sikh temple in Ganesh Peth. A police party was immediately despatched to deal with the situation and a little later Sergeant Symonds was sent to assist. When he arrived there, the mob had dispersed towards Daruwala Bridge followed by the police party. Suddenly Sergeant Symonds heard shouts from a gully close at hand and, on going to investigate, found a howling mob of Muhammadans advancing and throwing stones as they came. There was no time to get help to prevent an attack on the Sikh temple. Sergeant Symonds, realising this, decided to take action himself and stop the mob. He drew his revolver and advanced on the crowd. His decisive action and great courage had the desired effect and the crowd broke and dispersed without doing any material damage. The Sikh temple was thus saved from attack. Its destruction would have embroiled the Sikhs and brought a third party into the riots. Sergeant Symonds rendered very valuable service and showed considerable resource on this occasion.

20. Arthur Walter Pryde, Indian Police.
Mr. Pryde joined the Indian Police in 1923. He has established a reputation of being a very keen and hardworking officer, commanding at the same time the confidence and respect of the public as well as police force under him. In February 1931 he was posted to the Ahmedabad District where the political and industrial situation was still very unsettled as the result of the Civil Disobedience Movement. His administration during this arduous period received frequent commendation from all who were in a position to judge his work. After four years of this District—one of the heaviest in this Presidency—Mr. Pryde proceeded on leave. On his return from leave he was specially selected for the important post of Labour Officer for the City of Bombay and Bombay Suburban District, in which appointment he continues to render valuable services.
21. Khan Sahib Mahomed Khalil Mahomed Hussein, Subedar, Bombay City Police.
This officer joined the Bombay City Police Force in 1923 after a distinguished Army career extending over 19 years. His military services were such as to merit the bestowal on him of the Meritorious Service Medal in 1916 and the Distinguished Service Medal in 1918 while he attained the rank of Subedar.
During his period of office as Subedar at the Armed Police Head Quarters there were innumerable calls on the men under his command and they were at no time found wanting. The admirable efficiency and devotion to duty of this officer have resulted in such a high pitch of smartness and turn-out being reached that the Armed Police Force of Bombay City to-day can be said to be the equal of any foot regiment in the country, and the discipline maintained by him has stood the force in good stead on the occasions referred to, particularly during the trying years of the Civil Disobedience Movement and the severe riots of 1932.
He was awarded the title of Khan Sahib in 1933 and since that time continued to serve with great loyalty and keenness until a weak heart necessitated his retirement in April this year.
22. Jivabhai Kalidas Gadhwai, Sub-Inspector of Police.
A gang of desperate dacoits had been rounded up and confined in the jail at Dehgam, which is in the Baroda State and in the neighbourhood of the Ahmedabad and Kaira Districts. Of this gang, five men escaped on 17th August 1934 and committed several dacoities in British India and in Indian State and Agency limits during 1934-35. Sub-Inspector Gadhwai, on receiving information on 2nd August 1935 that the dacoits were moving in the limits of his Police Station, immediately took party of Armed Police, private persons and trackers and went in pursuit. After tracking the gang for 15 miles across heavy-rain-soaked country, he sighted the dacoits and a running encounter ensued in which the leader Punja Samal was wounded. Sub-Inspector Gadhwai and Constable Muradali rushed in at the imminent risk of their lives and overpowered the dacoit.
Sub-Inspector Gadhwai, who has a clean record of 11 years' service, showed great initiative and courage in launching the attack against these dangerous dacoits.
23. Bhimaji Tukaram Lugade, Sub-Inspector of Police.
Enlisted in the Police Department as a Constable in 1925 and through sheer merit has risen to his present post of Sub-Inspector. He has shown marked energy and detective ability in dealing with crime. In 1935, he was responsible for the arrest of a notorious criminal Kudla Krishna who had escaped from the Criminal Tribes Settlement at Bijapur. This individual had taken shelter in Bailur village when the Sub-Inspector received information on the 30th September 1935. Disguised as a country cartman the Sub-Inspector proceeded with a handful of men to the house occupied by the absconder. No sooner had the house been surrounded than an alarm was raised. The absconder jumped from the upper floor of the house to the ground and endeavoured to make his escape, Sub-Inspector Lugade pursued and captured him. All this was done under great difficulties during a pitch dark night. Sub-Inspector Lugade displayed commendable initiative and resourcefulness in effecting the capture of this criminal.

24. Shaikh Nizamuddin Dawatbhui,
Sub-Inspector of Police.

In the month of March 1935 a series of house-breakings and thefts broke out in Bijapur District. From the modus operandi the offences were suspected to be the work of a notorious criminal called Kasim Abdul Dandiu. On the 24th of that month Sub-Inspector Nizamuddin came to know that this man was moving about in the neighbourhood of Nagoor village in a drunken state. He had with him a double-barrelled gun and was boasting he would shoot any one who came to arrest him. On receipt of this information the Sub-Inspector set out with a police party to arrest this criminal. Kasim, however, came to know that the Police were after him. He therefore went along with his mistress to a toddy grove and hid himself. The Sub-Inspector located the secret hiding place and cautiously approached it. But when Kasim saw the police party he immediately ran for his gun, which was lying a short distance away in an underground den. The Sub-Inspector rushed at him and secured him before he could reach his gun, and in spite of Kasim attempting to wound him with a knife, the Sub-Inspector and his men overpowered and tied him up. The gun and six unused cartridges were later attached. Kasim was subsequently prosecuted and sentenced to a period of 9½ years for various offences. The courage and promptitude of the Sub-Inspector, who has an unblemished record of nearly 8 years' service, was favourably commented upon by the Sessions Judge. The Sub-Inspector displayed great initiative and resource in bringing about the arrest of this notorious criminal.

25. George Richardson Duncan,
Sergeant.

During the Hindu-Muslim riots in Poona City at about 3 p.m. on the 24th April 1936, Sergeant Duncan was detailed with a party of men to clear the road between Dhuruwala Bridge and Kasha Peth. Here he came face to face with a large Hindu mob which had just burned down a mosque and two shops and were on their way to another mosque near Dhuruwala Bridge. Sergeant Duncan not only stopped this infuriated mob but succeeded in dispersing it. On proceeding towards Kasha he found that the Municipal fire engine was being held up by another crowd to prevent it from going to the fire at the mosque. Sergeant Duncan rushed the crowd although he was supported by only a few men. His courage so unnerved the mob that they broke and before they recovered the fire engine was through.

Sergeant Duncan's bold action prevented another mosque from being destroyed. All this he did with one arm practically useless as he received rather a severe injury to his hand during the morning. Sergeant Duncan has only 3 years' service but his courageous conduct merits recognition.

He played a conspicuous part in the investigation of many political cases and with great tact collected valuable information that led to the arrest of several notorious political absconders.
37. Suresh Chandra Chakrabarti II, Inspector of Police.	This officer joined the police service in 1920. While employed in the District Intelligence Branch both at Mymensingh and Faridpur he showed great tact, ability and resourcefulness in the collection of valuable information regarding the various terrorist groups. He was also responsible for the recovery of a revolver and ammunition. During his service he has earned 17 good service marks, 21 commendations and monetary rewards to the extent of Rs. 665.
38. Oscar D'Lastie, Inspector Traffic Police.	This officer was recruited as a Sergeant in the Calcutta Police Force on 8th July 1920 and was promoted as an Inspector in the year 1927. During his past seven years' service as an Inspector he held charge of various Departments of the Traffic Police and has done much to improve the standard of traffic in Calcutta. In addition he has always been a willing, cheerful and efficient worker especially during abnormal times when the Police have had to work under great strain.
39. Radhika Charan Das, Sub-Inspector of Police.	This officer joined the police as a constable in September 1903, and soon showed himself possessed of exceptional ability. During his service he has rendered work of a meritorious nature and earned many rewards. His devotion to duty is of a high order.
40. Basanta Kumar Mukherji, Sub-Inspector of Police.	This officer entered the service as a constable in 1914 and by dint of merit rose up to the rank of Sub-Inspector in 1927. In 1930 he was taken into the District Intelligence Branch where he has been doing excellent work, sometimes at considerable personal risk. He recovered a number of unlicensed arms and ammunition and also succeeded in arresting a number of dangerous absconders. It is largely through his efforts that several plans of the terrorists were frustrated.
41. Rabindra Nath Gupta, Sub-Inspector, Calcutta Police.	Entering the police service in 1920 as a Sub-Inspector, this officer has done good work in different capacities. He worked hard to stamp out gambling and cocaine smuggling. He was rewarded in 1930 for his good work in connection with the civil disobedience movement. He assisted in making arrests of armed smugglers, carrying revolvers and automatic pistols. He received 4 rewards and commendations and was four times mentioned in the Annual Administration Report.
42. Girindra Nath Singha, Sub-Inspector of Police.	This officer joined the police service in 1920. During his tenure he was responsible for the frustration of many contemplated dacoities and to the arrest of several suspects and the capture of arms and ammunition. He has been presented with a wrist watch, monetary rewards and earned a good number of good service marks and commendations.
43. Hemendra Narayan Burman, Sub-Inspector of Police.	This officer has rendered distinguished service in the District Intelligence Branch since 1930 and for the last four years has been in charge of the District Intelligence Branch of the Brahmanbaria Sub-division of Tippera District and Agartala. During the course of searches he recovered some revolvers and arrested several political absconders.
44. Surendra Bejoy Deb, Assistant Sub-Inspector of Police.	This officer joined the police service as recently as 1930. He was selected to lead a military party to its allotted position in a cordon and it was due to his commendable promptitude and courage that a dangerous terrorist was captured.

UNITED PROVINCES.

15. John Lindenboom, Deputy Superintendent of Police. Mr. Lindenboom joined the United Provinces Police Force as a Sergeant in 1903. In 1909 he was promoted to the rank of Reserve Inspector in which post he distinguished himself by his ability, force of character and strong sense of discipline. In 1918 he received well merited promotion to the rank of Deputy Superintendent of Police and was confirmed in that rank five years later. During the period 1923 to 1926 he was on deputation in the Andamans and earned high commendation for his work from the Chief Commissioner. Since his return to the United Provinces Mr. Lindenboom has held charge of the Investigation Branch of the Criminal Investigation Department and of various Railway Police Sections. His thirty-three years' service has been marked by ability, energy, integrity, resource and devotion to duty.
46. Naresh Chandra Misra, Deputy Superintendent of Police. Pandit Naresh Chandra Misra joined the United Provinces Police in 1928 and at the Police Training School, rapidly proved himself to be a Deputy Superintendent far above the average. After a successful period in district work at Lucknow he was posted to the Criminal Investigation Department and sent on deputation to Delhi where his valuable work in connexion with the Delhi Conspiracy Case earned him special praise from the Delhi administration. On return to these provinces, he rejoined the Criminal Investigation Department, and did excellent work in the investigation and prosecution of a series of revolutionary dacoities in the Agra district. He has a distinct flair for investigation and has proved himself to be a successful intelligence officer—a rare combination. He has been associated with all the more important cases undertaken by the Criminal Investigation Department during the last four years and his services have been invaluable during visits of high personages to these provinces. An indefatigable worker he is an officer of outstanding ability whose merits are deserving of special recognition.
47. Mohammad Hafiz, Circle Inspector. Inspector Mohammad Hafiz has a record of over thirty years meritorious service during which he has earned seventy-five rewards and notes of commendation. Throughout his service he has shown himself to be a very hardworking, conscientious and thoroughly reliable officer of considerable ability. His good work and straight-forwardness have at all times earned for him the confidence of his superiors, his subordinates and the public.
48. Ramnaq Husain, Sub-Inspector of Police. Sub-Inspector Ramnaq Husain was enlisted in the United Provinces Police as a constable in 1902. He received promotion to the rank of Head Constable in 1914 and five years later was confirmed in the rank of Sub-Inspector and posted to the Shahjahanpur district where he distinguished himself by particularly good work as station officer. During his unblemished record of 34 years service, which has been characterised by resource and devotion to duty, he has done excellent work in many cases of heinous crime.

49. Sydney Clarence Terry, Inspector of Police. Inspector Terry joined the service as a Sergeant in July, 1916. He was employed in the Government Railway Police until May, 1928, where the satisfactory nature of his work earned him a large number of commendations. In 1929 when investigating a murder case in the Gurdaspur District he recovered a corpse from the Ravi under dangerous conditions. He also did much good work in this district in the control of traffic on the important hill roads which traverse it. In December, 1929, he was placed in charge of the traffic arrangements during the Congress session at Lahore and was specially commended by the Senior Superintendent of Police. In August, 1930, he was promoted to the rank of Inspector and after serving for some time in

This appointment is an onerous one as the Inspector is responsible for the personal safety of His Excellency the Viceroy both at Delhi and Simla and on tour in all parts of India, and also for the supervision of the large police guard employed. The Military Secretary to His Excellency the Viceroy noted that he could not speak too highly of Inspector Terry's devotion to the first named responsibility and the able manner in which he has discharged it. He also commended the high standard of training and discipline maintained in the Police guard Khan Sahib Munshi Safdar Ali Khan joined the police as a Sub-Inspector in 1912. He soon showed himself to be an officer of outstanding ability and in September 1930, he was promoted to the rank of Inspector. In January 1930 he was awarded the King's Police Medal for gallantry for the capture of a desperate Akali Sikh armed with a gun, and in January 1935, his services were recognised by the award of the title of Khan Sahib. In 1936 he was promoted to officiate as Deputy Superintendent of Police. During 1935 while serving in the Shahpur District Inspector Safdar Ali was called upon to take measures to eradicate two separate gangs of desperate murderers. In the first case after a careful study of the difficult terrain in which the gang was hiding, he organised a system of relentless patrolling and repeated search of all places where they were likely to take shelter. Within a short time all three members of this gang were driven to despair and forced to surrender. In the second case the adoption of similar methods combined with an efficient intelligence system led to the arrest, in the course of the summer, of all the minor members of the gang. The two ringleaders were eventually traced in the Jhang district. They were engaged by a combined force of the Jhang and Shahpur police under the direction of Inspector Safdar Ali Khan, and after a fight in which the absconders made use of a service rifle, both were shot dead. Inspector Safdar Ali Khan's conduct of these two operations was characterised by commendable resource and devotion to duty.

Lai was placed on special duty in connection with the prevention of cattle theft in the Muzaffargarh District and did work of great merit. In 1935 he rendered valuable services in connection with sectarian disputes in the Gurdaspur District. In October, 1935, he was placed in charge of the Fazilka Sub-Division in the Ferozepur District, which is one of the most criminal areas of the province and is infested by a large number of absconding criminals. Within six months he was able to effect the arrest of forty-two proclaimed offenders and in February 1936, he secured information which led to the shooting in an encounter with the Police of two dangerous absconders wanted for seven cases of murder and dacoity. He has recently been deputed for important duty in Bikaner State.

52. Rai Sahib Lala Jagan Nath,
Deputy Superintendent of Police.

Rai Sahib Lala Jagan Nath joined the Police as a first grade Head Constable in May 1904. He showed remarkable promise and was promoted to the rank of Sub-Inspector in July 1907. In November 1913 he passed the Prosecuting Sub-Inspectors examination and from that date onwards was employed as a Prosecuting officer, being confirmed in the rank of Inspector in February 1918. He was promoted to officiate as Deputy Superintendent of Police in December 1923, in the executive line. In that year he was congratulated by the Inspector-General of Police for his share in a raid which resulted in the capture of three desperate armed dacoits in the Attock District. In June 1931 the title of Rai Sahib was conferred on him in acknowledgment of his services. Early in 1933, he was commended by the Officer Commanding Rawalpindi District for the efficient manner in which he prosecuted an intricate case of fraud in the British Military Hospital at Murree, while in April 1936, he received the congratulations of the Inspector-General of Police for his services in securing information which led to the conviction of an important thief of gold bullion in transit on the North Western Railway. In the summer of 1935, Rai Sahib Lala Jagan Nath was selected for duty as Watch and Ward Officer of the Legislative Assembly which is a responsible post, requiring much ability and tact. He has also been selected for this duty in the two subsequent sessions of the Assembly.

Rai Sahib Lala Jagan Nath has a long and distinguished record of service both in the executive and Prosecuting lines of the Police.

53. William John George Fearn, officiating Deputy Superintendent of Police.

Mr. Fearn was appointed a Sergeant in November 1916. He soon showed unusual promise and was promoted to officiate as Inspector less than two years later, being finally confirmed in that rank in February 1928. With short intervals of other duties, he was employed as confidential Inspector at Lahore from 1918 to 1926 and showed himself to be extremely able and absolutely reliable in a post of considerable responsibility. He was subsequently employed as Head Clerk of the Criminal Investigation Department at Delhi where he continued to give complete satisfaction. He returned to Lahore in January 1928 and remained there for six years, being employed first as a Traffic Inspector and later as Inspector in charge of the large Civil Lines Police Station. In January 1934, he was transferred to Multan as City Inspector. Multan is one of the largest cities of the province and is notorious for the virulence of communal ill-feeling. Mr. Fearn handled the city and its many problems in an extremely able manner and gained the confidence of all communities and factions. In April 1935 a Hindu was murdered by a Muslim fanatic. This occasioned much communal excitement and three more murders followed in quick succession. Mr. Fearn was on short leave when the first murder occurred, but he was immediately recalled and remained in charge of the City throughout this very difficult period. It was due in no small measure to his knowledge of the City and the calm manner in which he dealt with each situation as it arose that confidence in the ability of the administration to maintain order was restored.

54. Nawab Khan, Sub-Inspector of Police. Sub-Inspector Nawab Khan was appointed in that rank in April 1912, and was promoted to the Selection Grade in May 1929. Since April 1930, he has officiated at intervals in the rank of Inspector. The whole of his service has been spent in the Railway Police and he has acquired a fine reputation as an able and straightforward investigating officer. For many years he has been in charge of the most important Railway Police Stations where his services in the prevention and detection of crime have saved the Railway considerable sums in claims. He has played a prominent part in the investigation of almost all important cases dealt with by the Railway Police during the past ten years, and has also frequently been employed on duties of a special nature in connection with the protection of Royalty and high officials when travelling by rail and in the collection of intelligence regarding sectarian and labour agitation.

BURMA.

55. Captain Roland Nicholas Higgs, Royal Corps of Signals, Assistant Commandant, and Inspector of Wireless, Burma Military Police. The services of this officer were placed at the disposal of the Government of Burma for employment with the Burma Military Police with effect from the 17th February 1934. He was reverted to Military duty on the 11th February 1936. Apart from his most efficient work as Inspector of Wireless, during his tenure of which appointment he brought to completion the first stage of the Burma Military Police W/T Scheme, it is due to Captain Higgs alone that the Signal communications in the Wa States in connection with the Boundary Commission, 1935-36, had functioned so successfully and efficiently.
56. Captain Kenneth Norman Swales, I.A., Assistant Commandant, Burma Military Police. The services of Captain Swales were placed at the disposal of the Government of Burma for employment with the Burma Military Police with effect from the 17th February 1933 and he will revert to Military service in February 1937. He served in the Wa States from April 1935 until June 1936 which covered the period of the Boundary Commission. He has a flair for pioneering, and did valuable work in the building of comfortable posts at Pangkawp and Hobsawn at a minimum of cost. He constructed a water supply at Hobsawn, and but for his foresight the Commission and its escort which encamped there for a month would have had considerable difficulty. He has displayed throughout zeal and ability and cheerfulness in all circumstances.
57. Jemadar Thakur Singh, Burma Military Police. This officer bears an exemplary character of over 25 years in the Burma Military Police. He was in charge of the Pack Station which worked with the Boundary Commission and Survey Party throughout the period the Boundary Commission was in the Wa States. Due to his efficiency, initiative, and high standard of technical training and supervision of men under him, this Pack Station maintained communication at all times often under difficult conditions.
58. Lieutenant Charles Herbert Tarver, I.A., Assistant Commandant, Burma Military Police. In order to deal with the situation arising from the presence of Chinese bandits in Mankwei, Wa States, two columns set out against Mankwei on the 16th April 1936. Lieutenant Tarver was in charge of a Column of 100 men. It was chiefly due to his gallantry, devotion to duty, and leadership, in the attack on the main Mankwei stockade, that the complete defeat of the enemy and the capture of the Mankwei Ridge was resulted. He has been attached to the Burma Military Police for a period of two years.
59. Havildar Bhagat Singh, Burma Military Police. Havildar Bhagat Singh has rendered 25 years' service in the Burma Military Police. He took part in the Mankwei attack in the Wa States. During the early phases of the attack, he was wounded, but insisted on staying with his section until the enemy had been completely driven off the Mankwei Ridge. His devotion to duty impressed the whole Column.

60. Lance Naik Po Thun, Burma Military Police. Lance Naik Po Thun has served in the Burma Military Police for 4 years. He took part in the attack against Mankwei, and as Commander of a Lewis Gun Section, he was responsible in getting his gun into position in time to enfilade the enemy as they retreated from their outer defences. The gun had to be man-handled and carried over eleven miles of very heavy going in the dark.
61. Gerard Leo Tuppen, A.M.I. Mech.E., Chief Officer, Rangoon Municipal Fire Brigade. Mr. Tuppen was appointed Chief Officer of the Fire Brigade in December 1913. At the time he took charge of the Department, the equipment of the Brigade was antiquated and he with his rich experience in Mechanical Engineering and fire fighting work set himself with commendable zeal and devotion to the improvement of the machinery and equipment and the general efficiency of the Department and is directly responsible for the introduction of the most up to date engines and other appliances. On his recommendation, a Turntable escape and a fire float for the protection of the riverine properties were added to the equipment of the Brigade and a Street Fire Alarm has also been installed. The design of the hull and various other special arrangements made in the Fire Float were carried out by Mr. Tuppen himself. During the years 1925—30, Mr. Tuppen, in addition to his duties as Chief Officer, Fire Brigade, was placed in charge of the Motor Transport Department also, and during those years he effected several important improvements in the Department. As a result of his contact with this Department, he has taken a keen interest in the problem of disposal of the rubbish of the city and has designed an Incinerator which has been so devised as to suit the local conditions and to eliminate the objectionable features common to other systems in the market. An experimental unit has been constructed for the Rangoon Corporation and tests have been carried out and the decision of the Corporation is awaited. Mr. Tuppen is a happy combination of a first class Mechanical Engineer and Fire Fighter. He is a strict disciplinarian and has by personal interest and devotion to duty brought the efficiency of the Rangoon Fire Brigade to a very high pitch of efficiency.
62. Bindasuri Upadia, Head Constable. Bindasuri Upadia has rendered 25 years' long and devoted service in the Akyab District Police Force. His long service bears the stamp of fidelity, loyalty and zeal, for which he has been rewarded no less than 14 times. The many arrests of criminals he has effected bear eloquent testimony to resourcefulness and ability far above the average.
63. Maung Po Kyai, Sub-Inspector of Police. Early in 1936 a serious dacoity with murder and arson occurred in Kya-in Township. Two men were arrested but the remainder took shelter in the Taungdi hills. They subsequently committed other dacoities and robberies, and, being well armed, looked like becoming a serious menace. By his resource and tireless energy, Maung Po Kyai arrested one of them with a gun and later lay in wait for another one at night and, after a desperate encounter, succeeded in effecting his arrest. But for the good work of this officer, the gang would undoubtedly have committed many more serious crimes. His valuable services characterised by resource and devotion to duty have earned commendation from all his superior officers. He has served over 14 years in the Police service.
64. Maung U Pru, Sub-Inspector of Police. Maung U Pru has rendered 27 years' unblemished service in the Police Department and has received the commendation of every officer under whom he has served. He is a thoroughly reliable, conscientious, hard-working and efficient officer, and has been rewarded no less than 5 times. His ability for detecting crime is well above the average.

65. James Percy Wynne Robertson, Indian Police.	Throughout his service of 10 years in the Police Department, Mr. Robertson has received high praise from all officers under whom he has served as a most efficient, zealous and reliable officer. He has rendered valuable service as a District Superintendent of Police in charge of two important districts—Mandalay and Shwebo—and in particular he has held the post of Crime Assistant to the Deputy Inspector-General of Police for Railways and Criminal Investigation (a District Superintendent of Police's charge) for three periods of 8 years in all with conspicuous success, distinguished by his organising ability, thoroughness and devotion to duty. He has displayed the same energy and enthusiasm in the organisation of all branches of Police Sports and Athletics and has thereby rendered invaluable service in the promotion of esprit de corps in the Burma Police.
66. Captain Sydney George Gardiner, I.A., Assistant Commandant, Burma Military Police.	The services of Captain Gardiner were placed at the disposal of the Government of Burma for employment with the Burma Military Police with effect from the 8th May 1932 and reverted to Military duty on the 8th May 1936. He served in four battalions and his work throughout was of an uniformly high standard. He was 15 months in the office of the Deputy Inspector-General of Military Police as Additional Personal Assistant. During this period, work was exceptionally heavy owing to the Reorganization of the Burma Military Police and the Boundary Commission. He met all calls with unflinching cheerfulness and ability and proved himself to be a valuable Staff Officer.
67. U Kyaw Din, T. D. M., Deputy Superintendent of Police.	U Kyaw Din entered the Police Service as an Inspector in 1917 and was made a Deputy Superintendent of Police in 1926. He has served for 19 years with great zeal and efficiency in the Criminal Investigation Department, as an Instructor in the Burma Provincial Police Training School and in the district forces. Since 1929 he has been Sub-divisional Police Officer, Kyompyaw, where his energy and efficiency prevented the spread of the rebellion into his heavy charge. His detective powers not only enabled him to bring to justice quasi rebel bands which infested his borders but also raised the standard of detection among his subordinates. He possesses and uses to a marked extent the power of obtaining ready and willing co-operation from all non-official communities in his charge. He distinguished himself in many branches of sport in his youth and this has enabled him to advise and encourage his subordinates in their leisure activities.
68. Sergeant Hector James McLennan, Royal Corps of Signals, Burma Military Police.	His services were placed at the disposal of the Government of Burma for employment with the Burma Military Police with effect from the 29th November 1930. He is now on leave and will revert to duty with his own Corps. He joined as an Operator Instructor on the Staff of the W/T Group, Burma Military Police, which was then being raised. He saw the W/T Group evolve from a collection of V/T Signallers and raw recruits into the most efficient Wireless Service which have during the past open season been working with Regular British W/T Personnel in the Wa States. During the past 2 years, the work of the W/T Group in those States has brought many of the Personnel comprising it rewards and honours from Government. Every recipient of such rewards and honours owe them chiefly to the training of and instruction imparted to them by Sergeant McLennan. He himself worked continuously in a completely satisfactory manner which has won admiration. His general conduct was an example to all ranks and showed to all what a first class British Non-Commissioned Officer could be.
69. Subedar-Major San La, Burma Military Police.	Subedar-Major San La has rendered 33 years' valuable service in the Burma Military Police characterised by devotion to duty and prolonged service of ability and merit. He retired on pension from the Monywa Battalion on its disbandment in 1925, but was persuaded to return for service with the Western Battalion in 1926 to pull the Kachins together. He has done excellent service for Government, both in the rebellion and in the battalion itself, and is the first Kachin in the Military Police to attain the rank of Subedar-Major. He was awarded a Silver mounted dak and Certificate of Honour for his rebellion services, and was also given the King's Silver Jubilee Medal. He has been a thorough success in his present appointment, and is liked and respected by all ranks and classes.

70. U Ba Maung (1), T. D. M., officiating District Superintendent of Police.	U Ba Maung joined the Police Department as a Probationary Inspector on the 1st June 1911. He was appointed to officiate as a Deputy Superintendent of Police in 1919 and was confirmed in that appointment in 1922. As a Deputy Superintendent of Police he held charge of the Police of Bhamo and Kyaukse Districts with success. Since 1926, he has officiated as District Superintendent of Police on six different occasions. He is a loyal, conscientious and hard-working servant of Government.
71. U Kywe (2), T. D. M., Deputy Superintendent of Police.	U Kywe has served in the Police Department for 21 years and has rendered valuable service throughout his police career, especially during the last sixteen months when he held charge of the Bassein Sub-division and by his energy and detective ability reduced every form of crime. The police force under his charge has a brilliant record of detection in dacoity cases. This success is undoubtedly due to his zeal and power of organisation. In a recent difficult dacoity case where a fire-arm was taken, he used his powers of detection and organisation with such success that not only were the gun and all property taken recovered but all accused, except one man of minor importance, have been sent up for trial on good evidence. This feat was accomplished in the face of extraordinary difficult physical conditions and with little help from the public.
72. Maung Thein Pe, Sub-Inspector of Police.	Maung Thein Pe joined the Police Department as a Constable in 1917 and rose to the rank of Sub-Inspector in 1925. From 1925 to 1930 he worked as a surveillance officer when he had very great success in capturing absconders—in one year he arrested 90—and during this period he received 9 Good Service Certificates from his own district, 1 from a neighbouring district, and also a Certificate from the Inspector-General of Police, Burma. In 1931, he took charge of Attana Police Station as Station Officer, and by his energy and ability succeeded not only in preventing the spread of rebellion into his charge but also was largely instrumental in breaking up seven quasi rebel gangs which infested the Hanzada-Bassein border at that time. In the unsettled period after the rebellion his detective ability soon reduced crime in his jurisdiction to below pre-rebellion times and the conviction of 8 dacoity cases, 2 of which took place outside his jurisdiction, was entirely due to his energy and ability. Throughout his service he has been recognised as hardworking and skilful. He has also managed to imbue his subordinates with similar ideals so that his reputation in all non-official communities in his jurisdiction is deservedly high.
73. Subedar Mohinder Singh, Burma Military Police.	This officer has served in the Burma Military Police for 31 years. He is a very hard working and efficient officer and has held the appointment of Havildar Major. He was also Quarter-Master of the Bhamo Battalion from the 1st October 1928 to the 30th September 1931. He did excellent work in this post and showed himself both capable and untiring in his devotion to duty. He is in possession of the British War and Victory Medals, and his active service includes the Chin Hills Column, 1917-1918, and the Kuki Operations, 1918-1919. He is retiring this year after a long and meritorious service.

74. U Kauk, Inspector of Police.	U Kauk has rendered 16 years' valuable service in the Police Department. In August 1935, he was specially posted to the charge of the Pyinmana Circle to suppress gambling in Pyinmana. This he successfully did and was transferred to the charge of the Yamethin Circle in January 1936 where he brought to light a dacoity which occurred in Welanug Village, Yanaung Township. The detection of this crime brought to light the existence of the Kyaungye-Taungphila gang of dacoits. There are 246 members of the gang and proceedings are under preparation to notify this gang as a Criminal Tribe. Before coming to the Yamethin District, U Kauk did splendid work in the Kyaukse District in rounding up a formidable gang of coiners on the Kyaukse-Mandalay border, who were eventually sentenced to long terms of imprisonment. He was awarded a Certificate of Honour and Revolver both in 1931 and 1933.
75. Subedar Fazal Dad Khan, Burma Military Police.	This officer has rendered 30 years' service in the Burma Military Police of outstanding merit. He is a faithful and loyal officer who during his service was Quarter-Master of the Bhano Battalion from the 1st October 1931 to the 30th September 1932. He is retiring this year on pension after a long service conspicuous for devotion to duty.

76. Bertram St. Loger Ten-Broeke, M.C., Indian Police.	After having served in the Army throughout the War of 1914—1918 and won the Military Cross for gallantry, he was appointed an Assistant Superintendent of Police in 1921, was promoted to Superintendent in 1925 and is now officiating in the Selection Grade of that rank. He has held charge of some of the more important and heavy districts, namely, Patna, Singhbhum, Hazaribagh and Gaya with credit. During the prolonged strike at Jamshedpur in 1928, which threw a heavy strain on him and the forces deputed to maintain law and order, he handled the situation with ability, resource, energy and tact. He was highly commended by Government for his excellent services. As a result of labour unrest in the Giridih collieries in 1934, a serious situation arose. The Deputy Commissioner and he were in the vicinity and, on receipt of information that a large mob of about 1,000 miners was attacking one of the colliery offices, they rushed to the spot by car, accompanied by an inspector and a constable. On arrival, they were confronted by the frenzied mob who had already burnt three motor cars and a motor cycle and were besieging the office. Of the small party, the Deputy Commissioner and he only were armed with revolvers. They charged the mob who retreated momentarily, but returned to the attack with bricks and stones, inflicting injuries on the party. Finding that the situation was extremely serious, the Deputy Commissioner and Mr. Ten-Broeke advanced, opening fire which, at first, produced no effect, but, realising later that two of their men had been killed and several injured, the mob dispersed. The courage and presence of mind displayed by him, exposed as he was to grave danger, was praiseworthy. For this act he was highly commended by Government. In his service of over 15 years, which has been marked by ability, efficiency, thoroughness and zeal, Mr. Ten-Broeke has set a very high standard and he has been an inspiration to his officers and men. In his devotion to duty, he has not spared himself.
77. 	In recognition of his valuable services, tact and impartiality in dealing with communal disputes, he was awarded the title of Khan Sahib in 1931 and a Sanad by His Excellency the Governor for his work in connection with the civil disobedience movement. Since then he has done excellent work in three important revolutionary cases and in 1934 he rendered very valuable service in Muzaffarpur after the earthquake and during the floods that occurred in that district. Throughout his service of over 28 years he has received no punishment or censure. He has earned numerous commendations and rewards.
78. Renupada Ghosh, Inspector of Police.	He joined the Department as a clerk in 1917 and two years later was appointed a Sub-Inspector. By hard work he reached his present rank in 1933. He has been in the Criminal Investigation Department since 1926 and has spent most of this period as Special Branch Officer at Jamshedpur. He has gained a thorough knowledge of the crime problems peculiar to a large industrial centre and his work throughout has been of a high standard. He has an unblemished record and in his service of over 19 years he has earned 44 rewards and commendations and the Silver Jubilee Medal in 1935.
79. Rai Sahib Babunandan Tiwari, Inspector of Police.	He was appointed a Sub-Inspector in 1906 and was promoted to his present rank in 1925. In recognition of his services, the title of Rai Sahib was conferred on him in 1931 and in 1934 he was promoted to the Selection Grade of inspectors. The Rai Sahib is an officer of outstanding ability. He rendered excellent service during the civil disobedience movement and in connection with the detection and suppression of dacoity on the Nepal border. It was his sustained efforts largely that enabled a gang of revolutionaries to be successfully dealt with. In 1934 an attempt was made on his life but that has not deterred him from carrying out his duties fearlessly and efficiently. At times he has held charge of the office of the Assistant Superintendent of Police, Madhubani, with credit. In his service of over 30 years he has earned 18 money rewards, a watch, two parchment certificates, 19 good service marks and 45 commendations.
80. Raja Bulli Thakur, Sub-Inspector of Police.	He was appointed a Sub-Inspector in 1921 and has, throughout his service of over 15 years, shown ability in controlling crime, tact and impartiality in communal matters and initiative generally. While in Purnea district in 1933 he prevented a serious riot during the Bakr-Id and during the floods in Saran district the following year he rescued two persons from drowning. His work in 1935 was excellent; he was personally responsible for the arrest of notorious and dangerous dacoits who were a menace to the inhabitants.
81. Rai Sahib Kali Kinkar Ghosh, Inspector of Police.	After serving for six years as a clerk in the Postal Department, he was appointed a Sub-Inspector in 1912 and in 1928 was promoted to his present rank. In recognition of his loyal and efficient services, the title of Rai Sahib was conferred on him in 1928. Since then he has continued to render meritorious service. In his service of over 30 years, he has earned 32 money rewards 34 commendations and 35 good service marks and he was granted the Silver Jubilee Medal in 1935, besides being mentioned in several Annual Administration Reports. His record of service is exemplary.
82. Murlidhar Prashad Sinha, Sub-Inspector of Police.	He was appointed a Sub-Inspector in 1926. In his service of over 10 years, he has earned 28 commendations and good service marks, 13 rewards, including a revolver and a gold watch, and the Silver Jubilee Medal in 1935. His work has been characterised by ability, initiative and industry.

BIHAR—concl'd.
During the past year he has rendered excellent service in the detection and suppression of dacoity in Suran. He was personally responsible for the detection of an important dacoity case in which all the important members of the gang, except one, have been convicted, and the unearthing of a very large gang that was responsible for numerous dacoities. The vigilance exercised by him has restored quiet in his own and neighbouring thanas.
83. Lutaf Hussain, Jemadar, Armed Police.	He enlisted as a constable in 1901, was promoted to the rank of havildar in 1915 and to his present rank in 1929. He is 55 years of age and has been granted an extension of service for one year. During his service of over 35 years, he has earned 10 money rewards, 1 good service marks and 12 commendations against one censure. His record is consistently good and shows that he is an officer of above the average ability; he is a strict disciplinarian and is liked and respected by his men. He was granted the Silver Jubilee Medal in 1935. In the same year he displayed courage of a high order in a riot when his small force dispersed an unruly mob of about 4,000 and prevented probable massacre and arson on a large scale.
84. Rajbans Singh, Sub-Inspector of Police.	He was appointed a writer head constable in 1912 and was promoted to his present rank in 1929. He has in his service of over 24 years, earned 21 rewards for meritorious work against few minor punishments. For several years the communal situation in the Dharampur Pargana of Purnea district has been strained, necessitating the appointment of additional police during 1934-1935. During the Bakr-Id this year Hindus collected in large numbers with a view to reprisals, but this Officer was in the village with a few chaukidars and finding it impossible to send word to the Magistrate for assistance, exercising great tact and firmness, he prevented a serious riot. His action was highly commended by the Magistrate.
85. William Christopher McLean Magrath, I. P.	After serving for two years in the War of 1914-18, he was appointed an Assistant Superintendent of Police in 1921. Quite early in his career he showed promise of ability and zeal and was promoted to his present rank in 1932. He has held charge, with success, of Angul, the Bengal-Nagpur Railway, Monghyr and Shahabad. As Superintendent of Police of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway, he was responsible for the investigation into the Elder murder case of 1929, which resulted in the arrest of the accused, his conviction and the sentence of death being passed which, on appeal, was upheld by the High Court. The Hon'ble the Chief Justice, in his judgment, remarked on the extremely skilful investigation, energy, speed and care, which reflected great credit on Mr. Magrath. His services were recognised by Government. In 1932, while in charge of Monghyr district, he frustrated a determined attempt by a mob of about 4,000 congressmen to hoist a flag over the Tarapur police station. His force consisted of 30 armed police with the District Magistrate present. A lathi charge led by him drove the mob from the precincts of the police station, only to return to the attack with renewed vigour. The situation had reached a serious turn and, as a last resort, firing was resorted to before the mob could be dispersed. The coolness and courage shown by Mr. Magrath against overwhelming odds were an inspiration to his men and of a high order. In his service of over 14 years, which is marked by ability, efficiency, keenness and devotion to duty, he has not spared himself and has done much to improve the standard of efficiency.

CENTRAL PROVINCES.

86. Dennis George Watson, Indian Police. Mr. D. G. Watson has nearly 25 years' service and is now officiating as D. I. G. Police. A very keen and enthusiastic Police Officer of great industry. Has done well throughout his service.
87. Khwaja Muhammad Akram Khan, Indian Police. Enlisted as Deputy Superintendent of Police in 1908, became a District Superintendent in 1919 and for eight years Inspector General of Police, Bhopal State. Awarded King's Police Medal for gallantry in 1918. A very conscientious and loyal officer of considerable merit and keenness.
88. Thomas Henry Horlock, Reserve Inspector. The Senior Reserve Inspector in the province with 23 years Police service and many years Military service previously. Of excellent character with a wonderful influence on all ranks.
89. Abdul Hafiz, Head Constable. Head Constable Abdul Hafiz has thirty years' service practically all of which has been served in the Special Armed Force, Jubbulpore. His character is excellent and he has throughout shown a fine example of loyalty and steadiness. A very trustworthy officer.
90. Istiak Husain, Circle Inspector. Mr. Istiak Husain has over 29 years' service, has an excellent record and has been for some years particularly valuable in the Intelligence Bureau.
91. Jaikishen Singh, Offg. Circle Inspector of Police. Jaikishen Singh has 26 years' service and for many years has done excellent service on the Railway Police. A very trustworthy and loyal officer.
92. Sheo Balak, Head Constable. Head Constable Sheo Balak has 28 years' service in the Special Armed Force, Saugor, where he has been a very fine example to all ranks.

ASSAM.

93. Bharat Chandra De, Constable. During his 14 years' service this Constable has displayed a devotion to duty and detective ability to an extent which is phenomenal. He has earned money rewards for his consistently good work in the prevention and detection of crime on the Railway on no less than 87 occasions while in addition he has earned commendation on 15 occasions and been thrice mentioned in the Annual Administration Report of Assam.
94. Jogendra Chandra Nag, Inspector of Police. He enlisted as a Constable in 1903 and now has 33 years' service. During his service he has received many commendations from his Superintendents of Police or from the Inspector General of Police, of which a large number has been Good Service Marks awarded for good work in the prevention of crime or its detection. High commendations have also been awarded to him by Magistrates. In the course of the last 8 years his work has been so outstanding as to merit special mention in the Annual Administration Report of the Inspector General of Police. Starting from the lowest rank he has, by his ability and attention to duty, risen to the rank of Inspector of Police, where he has continued to show the qualities by which he has earned each step in promotion.
95. Sanawar Ali Chaudhuri, Inspector of Police. He was appointed Sub-Inspector of Police in 1910 and now has 26 years' service. He has seen service in most of the important districts of the Province and in the course of his career has earned many rewards and commendations from both Judicial and Executive officers. These rewards include Good Service Marks earned by his consistently good work in the detection and prevention of crime. His work has also been the subject of special mention in the Annual Administration Reports of the Inspector General of Police. He has shown outstanding ability in all branches of police work and as a detective officer has earned the encomiums of the Judicial Officers before whom his cases have been placed. Recently while he was engaged in the investigation of a crime of an entirely different character, he effected the arrest of an absconder in a two-year old murder case, which goes to prove that he is always on the watch to prevent or detect other crime.

ASSAM—contd.
96. Makbul Ali, Inspector of Police.	He was appointed Sub-Inspector of Police in 1912 and now has 24½ years' service. Since his promotion to the rank of Inspector he has worked with uniform success, and on many occasions has shewn initiative and perseverance beyond the ordinary run. In Dibrugarh Circle he worked out the ramifications of what is known as the Khowang Robbery with murder, leading to the discovery and prosecution of an organised gang of dacoits directed by a wealthy merchant; while in Tinsukia his notable achievement has been the capture of the culprits in the Tinsukia Mail Robbery Case of 1934. His initiative and ability to make efficient use of modern innovations was shewn in the organised search leading to the capture in August 1935 of a gang of Chittagonian burglars (one carrying a loaded automatic pistol). A system of patrols organised by him was highly successful in checking pilferage of tea, one consignment in particular being at once traced back to the factory and the gang concerned successfully prosecuted. In addition he has displayed much energy in the organizing of patrols and the following up of information brought in, leading to the discovery of numerous missing bad characters.
97. Subadar Balbahadur Gurung, Assam Rifles.	He rendered valuable services, characterised by resource and devotion to duty, when, as Second in Command, he accompanied the Escort accompanying the Survey Party carrying out a geodetic survey in unadministered territory in Assam and Burma during the cold weather of 1935-36. The Officer Commanding the Escort spoke very highly of him and considered that his work could not have been carried out more conscientiously or better. He had a very trying time on one occasion when he had, to a large extent, to work out his own salvation in spite of the fact that he had no local knowledge of the country. Throughout the entire tour his energy and enthusiasm never waned and he proved himself a first class Indian officer full of initiative and resource.
SIND.
98. Didar Hussain Allahdad Khan, Deputy Superintendent of Police.	This officer has completed 30 years' service, which has been characterised by ability, hard work and freedom from communal bias, and he enjoys the complete confidence of the public. He has earned numerous rewards for good work. In view of his prolonged service and of his ability and merit he is now awarded the Indian Police Medal.
99. Mir Maulabux Khan, Mir Kadirbux Khan, Officiating Deputy Superintendent of Police.	This officer has served for 28 years in the Police Department and has earned numerous rewards. His work during the serious riots in Sukkur in 1930 was described by the Superintendent of Police as being extraordinarily good. After the Quetta earthquake he was in charge of the police arrangements for refugees at Rohri and performed his duty with great zeal and tact. In 1935 he showed his capacity for leadership and displayed considerable detective ability in running to earth a gang of dacoits in the Sukkur district. In view of his consistent good work and devotion to duty he is now awarded the Indian Police Medal.
100. Kalekhan Allahdadkhan, Inspector of Police.	This officer joined the Police Department in 1901 and has almost completed 35 years' service. He started his service as Camel Constable and has risen to the rank of Inspector by consistent good work and devotion to duty in spite of the handicap of a defective education. He has earned over 50 rewards and on two occasions was presented with a gold watch for special good work against dacoits. In view of his prolonged service and of his ability and merit he is now awarded the Indian Police Medal.

ORISSA.
101. Satish Chandra Chatterji, Deputy Superintendent of Police.	Babu Satish Chandra Chatterji was appointed a Sub-Inspector of Police early in 1906, promoted to the rank of Inspector in 1920 and confirmed as Deputy Superintendent in 1934. In the last 30 years of his service he has never received any censure or adverse comment; but has been given 4 cash rewards and several good service marks and commendations. The annual remarks written by Superintendents of Police under whom he has served have been consistently satisfactory and relate not only to work done in districts but also in the Criminal Investigation Department and in the Constables Training School. He has the reputation of being an industrious and intelligent worker and is the type of steady and reliable officer which forms the backbone of any Police Force and sets a good example to the younger men.
102. Nippani Jagannadha Rao, Officiating Inspector of Police.	In his whole service Babu Nippani Jagannadha Rao has shown great devotion to duty and much zeal. He worked in the capacity of an Intelligence Officer during Alluri Sri Rama Razu's Fiture (Rebellion) of 1922-24. In 1924 he was placed on special duty in Rajahmundry town in connection with an outbreak of crime and he was responsible for the detection of a series of burglaries. For this good work he was awarded Rs. 50 by the Inspector-General of Police, Madras. In 1925 he was again placed on secret special duty in connection with the alleged murder of a British Military Officer at Rajahmundry. His investigation was made as far afield as Poona, Belgaum, the Kolar Gold Fields and places in the Madras Presidency. In 1926 at his own request he was trained in prosecution work and until 1929 he was Prosecuting Sub-Inspector, Rajahmundry. He did excellent work in the 1930-31 Civil Disobedience Movement in East Godavari district. He was selected for training in the C. I. D., Madras, and on his return he introduced the District Intelligence Bureau in addition to being employed on special duty when the occasion arose. He was also on special duty in East Godavari district when the Civil Disobedience Movement was revived in 1931-32 and again in the Coconada Conspiracy Case—a conspiracy to assassinate the Deputy Superintendent of Police, Coconada, and other officers. He was on special duty for 4 months and his investigation extended throughout the Madras Presidency and Pondicherry. He also gathered evidence which was used in the Madras Conspiracy Case. During the trial of the Coconada Conspiracy Case he was selected to assist the specially appointed Public Prosecutor. In 1934 he was responsible for the detection of an important inter-district counterfeit coining case and was on duty with the Public Prosecutor before the High Court, Madras. During the past 18 months as in charge of the Circle he has worked with great zeal and has done much to improve police work in Koraput and Jeypore Circles. His character and conduct are exemplary and wherever he has been he has earned the respect of the public. During his 23 years' service he has earned 16 Good Service entries and 10 cash rewards.
103. Abdul Rahim, Havildar.	Sk. Abdul Rahim entered the Police force as a constable in the year 1909 and was promoted to the rank of Havildar in 1929. During his 27 years of service, he earned 53 rewards, 2 good service marks and 10 commendations. He has an excellent record all through, during which, he always won the appreciation of his superiors by his smart captures of burglars, thieves and absconders. He did excellent work during the last Civil Disobedience Movement.

ORISSA— contd.
104. Brindaban Chandra Kanungo, Prosecuting Inspector of Police.	Babu Brindaban Chandra Kanungo joined the Police as a Sub-Inspector in 1907. As Sub-Inspector of Police, he was a successful investigating officer with plenty of detective ability. By devotion to duty, he won the appreciation of his superiors and was promoted to the rank of Inspector in the year 1925. He has a remarkably blameless record extending over a period of 29 years of service, entirely without punishment, either major or minor, whereas 39 rewards, 22 good service marks and 48 commendations were earned. He was mentioned for several successive years in the Annual Administration Reports. As Prosecuting Inspector he is a good disciplinarian and his legal acumen has made him popular with both Bench and Bar. His keenness and energy, during the last Civil Disobedience Movement, secured for him a Sanad from His Excellency the Governor of Bihar and Orissa.
BUNDI STATE.
105. Pandit Washeshwar Nath Datta, Inspector General of Police.	Pandit Washeshwar Nath Datta took over charge of the Police of Bundi State in 1928 when the force was almost entirely unorganised and untrained, and gave practically no security to the public. By determined application and methodical efficiency he has succeeded in organising a well disciplined, well equipped and effective force with a sound system of recruitment, training and administration. Crime has declined by 40 per cent. In 1931-32 in the State there were 824 Criminal cases in 1934-35 there were 519. No serious dacoity has been committed in the State for the last four years. He himself set an excellent example to his men when he at considerable personal risk led a force which captured a notorious gang of dacoits. He has been particularly successful in dealing with the Bundi Kanjars (a Criminal tribe) who were a terror and a constant menace to the State and neighbouring territories, went unarmed and alone among the Kanjars and succeeded in inducing many absconding families and ex-convicts whose sole occupation was rapine and murder to come in from their haunts on the difficult Mewar-Bundi border and take up agriculture in a State Kanjar Settlement near Bundi town. Over 600 of the Kanjars have been living happily and prosperously in the Settlement for over four years and show no inclination to revert to their previous habits. In making a recommendation on his behalf for the Indian Police Medal, the Bundi Darbar have paid a tribute to his admirable service and his courage.
MEWAR BHIL CORPS.
106. Rai Sahib Ramdhani, Subedar Major.	This Indian Officer has completed 35 years' exceptionally fine service in the Mewar Bhil Corps. He is a first class officer of approved loyalty and has gained the confidence and respect not only of the men of the Corps but also of the Bhils throughout the Bhumat. The family to which he belongs has been connected with the Corps ever since it was raised nearly a hundred years ago and he has worthily upheld its traditions.
